

Jazz4Justice

raises public awareness and funds for Legal Aid, the Justice Gap, and music education.

JAZZ4 JUSTICE

IMPACT REPORT

The Justice Gap

The chasm between the civil legal needs of low-income Americans and the resources available to meet those needs.

$490,000 Raised

3,000 annual attendees and performers

Approximately $70,000 raised annually

Proceeds benefit Legal Aid and music education

“Justice for all is a never-ending quest, and pro bono legal work is a critical part of that journey. While many music genres could be a match, jazz is ideal because of its ongoing link to social justice”.

-Antonio Garcia,
Director of Jazz Studies at Virginia Commonwealth University

JAZZ4 JUSTICE

Why is Legal Aid Important?

Legal aid providers protect the rights of millions of Americans with low-income each year in areas such as housing, consumer, family, education and employment, and defend access to services for people of all backgrounds, including children, veterans, victims of domestic violence, the elderly, and those living with disabilities.

Why is Music Education Important?

Jazz is America’s diary. Our entire story is contained therein. Its value is beyond priceless. It is the blueprint for how we will heal our nation and move forward with a groove. HR-57 states: “It is now in the best interest of the national welfare and all of our citizens to preserve and celebrate this unique art form.”
